Personal Pendants

The Personal Pendant was specifically designed to be worn over the thymus so comes with an adjustable waxed cotton cord so it can be worn around the neck. During the proprietary manufacturing process the vibrational signature of the metal (Titanium) has been varied so that it acts as a transceiver of specific photons (packets of light/energy).

This product then has the effect of strengthening the wearer's energy field, thus helping to alleviate the bio-energy effects of some man-made EMF/EMR. The process is similar to an antidote, which transforms a poison to neutral and educates the body to resist the poison next time.

Testing has been done on a variety of people after they have worn the pendant in the correct position for 24 hours. These results have been observed on biofeedback equipment such as:

- EEG, showing brain wave activity,
- Micro Capillary Microscope showing blood flow,
- Acutec, Ridoraqu & Prognos, computer programs which test via the meridian system.
- Kirlian tests were done over a 56 day period on a number of people wearing PP while they continued on with their normal life. These tests were carried out on the latest computerized diagnostic equipment used in Eastern European military hospitals.

IMPORTANT -

The Personal Pendant must be worn continuously for the first 24 hours .

After 24 hours your PP will have adapted to your energy matrix and should then not be worn by other people.

It can however still be used as a healing disk to help others if needed (with pain or burns etc.)

Pendant Placement

The Pendant adapts to the wearer's personal matrix, thus the wearer's energy field may become stronger and more balanced. The Pendant may help the wearer cope with their EM environment. The Pendant may also increase activity in the lower brain frequencies as usually happens in deep meditation & concentration.

According to many wearers the Pendant has helped negate other energies.

Personal Pendants are designed to be worn around the neck over the Thymus.

Mobile Phone Tags

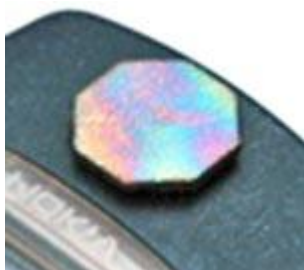

Digital mobile phones use a microwave/radio frequency that pulses at 217 times per second. The home cordless telephone produces a high magnetic field. Some people complain of blurred vision or vague head pains (Dr B. Hoking Herald Sun 1997). The Phone Tag has been developed to fit on the outside of your phone, when fitted correctly in accordance with the instructions, this small device may help alleviate some effects when the phone is in use. Studies at University Lueoek, Germany measured that biological effects can extend at least 2 to 3 metres from some phones antenna.

Industry studies have shown the portable hands-free fittings for mobile phones to be of benefit, 100+mG at the phone when in use and 3mg at the portable hands-free earpiece. Teslas also recommend these in conjunction with the Phone Tag particularly for heavy users.

Car Field Modifier Plates

Car Plate 90mm x 1.5mm thick.

With all the added electronic devices now standard in new cars, greater stress has been placed on our human electrical system and may be the contributing factor to the increase in road rage and fatigue levels (RACV 1999). With the Car Plate positioned in a vehicle, drivers and passengers may find they feel calmer with diminished fatigue. Colours may vary but are similar to the pendant colour range.

HEMOCARE

Water Kit

Fit to the outside of the water pipe at the water meter. This unit delivers a proprietary energy into tap water at the inflow pipe. There are no moving parts, contains no magnets, uses no chemicals or electricity and does not filter the water.

The Water Kit technology aids the water to return to its natural energised state. The return of life force is evident in the improved taste and obvious plant growth. The resultant soft energised water may appear crystal clear with a reduced chemical taste.
